ABOUT EV SOCIETY

EV Society comprises more than a thousand owners of electric vehicles across Ontario. It is a non-profit organization founded in 1994, when all electric cars were hand-crafted one-off conversions. Now we help to increase EV adoption through education, advocacy, meetings, events, partnerships, and member benefits.

WHAT DOES EV SOCIETY DO, EXACTLY?

EV Society has twelve chapters across Ontario actively involved in organizing and supporting community events that help encourage the adoption of electric vehicles. Outreach at dozens of such events each year involves hundreds of enthusiastic owners who have driven millions of EV kilometres. They provide Ontarians with a chance to learn from our real-life experiences about how possible, positive, profitable, and fun EV ownership is.

We engage in industry and government advocacy. As owners, we're in a unique position to explain, discuss, and advise about EVs. We provide credible information and dispel misinformation and myths about EVs, to people with any level of knowledge about them.

We host meetings regularly where we discuss industry news and work on initiatives and opportunities to advance EV adoption. We join in partnerships and sponsorships that support EV retailers, non-profits, and government agencies, as well as potential and actual purchasers of EVs.

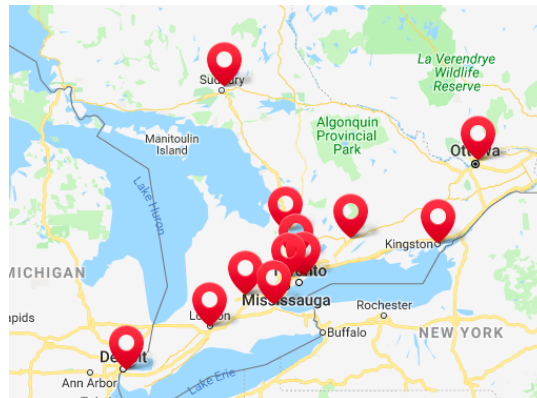

You can become involved by becoming a member. The member benefits alone are worth more than the moderate annual cost! You can also form a chapter or partner with us on a corporate level.
